

Expanded Partnership with Avetta for Health and Safety Compliance

Cushman and Wakefield and C&W Services are committed to a culture focused on safety, sustainability, and environmental compliance. It is vital our suppliers that provide goods and services to our clients share those same values.

We have engaged Avetta (www.avetta.com) to streamline our pre-qualification process for health and safety compliance as part of our supplier management program. More than 500 companies worldwide use Avetta's leading Compliance Management Platform to reduce risk, improve safety, and save time spent on administrative tasks.

At this time there is no action required of you. As one of our suppliers that provides services that require a health and safety review, Avetta will send you an invitation on Wednesday, February 21st to register in their portal and connect your business to our compliance program. After you have registered and completed the connection, your successful completion of our health and safety requirements through Avetta is a critical component of your eligibility to work with us and our clients. The review you complete for our firm in Avetta will apply to all future contracts you have with us, unless a specific client has additional requirements.

We appreciate your commitment to maintaining high safety standards as part of our supplier network.

If you have any questions prior to receiving the invitation from Avetta, please email avettasupport@cushwake.com.

Sincerely,

Damilola Jaiyeboa
